

AN HOUR OF POWER!

Run-A-Locomotive reservations are now open at the Western Pacific Railroad Museum in Portola, California. Our world famous program lets you operate a REAL railroad locomotive. One of our RAL instructors will be your guide as you operate a locomotive in our historic railyard.

Group events can also be scheduled. Bring a friend or bring the family! Admission to the Western Pacific Railroad Museum is included with your RAL session, letting everyone explore our extensive collection.

We have two locomotives available for the start of the 2024 season:

Western Pacific 1503

The last switching locomotive acquired by the Western Pacific Railroad. The 1503 has been restored by the museum to its original appearance. An SW1500 model built in 1973, this locomotive worked yards in San Francisco, Oakland and Stockton for the WP.

With 1500 horsepower and weighing 129 tons, the 1503 is some serious power! Up to two (2) people can be in the cab at a time. Cost is $500 per hour, $400 for members of the Feather River Rail Society.

Quincy 1100

A rare locomotive, TR6A model, and now the last of its type, the 1100 was built in 1950 and was owned by the Southern Pacific Railroad and later the Quincy Railroad for its operation in Susanville, California.

The Quincy 1100 weighs 115 tons and has 800 horsepower. Up to two (2) people can be in the cab at a time. Cost is $400 per hour, $320 for members of the Feather River Rail Society.
