A question for the board...How many extras?

In addition to the paper copies of the Train Sheet we need for postal delivery and the Historical/Archive Department's records, we have been printing about 50 extra copies. Some of the extras are meant to be available for sale in the WPRM Museum Store. Others are meant to be available for promotional usage and gratis distribution. I recently was told "we never sell any in the museum store."

Should we reduce the number of "extra copies" we print for the next issue?
