Background Screening Status Report

The account with Verified Volunteers is set-up and is now working.

Eugene Vicknair, Steve Habeck and I have been able to log-in to the system in the past month.

I started testing the system, and I was the first to try out how the system worked. I learned several things as I got used to the way the dashboard works and how Verified Volunteers processes the backgrounds.

I then started to use the system as intended and asked Paul Finnegan to be the first to test the entire system from start to finish. It work and was very fast at returning results and moving the volunteer into the accepted list of volunteers.

The next two volunteers were Matt Elems and Eugene Vicknair.

I can say that this process was much better than I expected, with a very fast turnaround.

There will be an article in the next issue of the Trainsheet (# 179) that explains to the membership about the background screening and referring them to the Background Policy.
