ONLINE STORE

Looking at possible new products for the store. Also looking again at scheduling software that could be applicable for the RAL program when that restarts.

FACE SHIELDS

One of my clients is a company that manufactures face shields here in the US. We have been designing and engineering new shields for them. If the museum is going to want shields to protect visitors and volunteers when we initially reopen, he said he will work with me to set up a deal to supply the museum at cost or nearly at cost. We can even get them branded with WP graphics.
