From the Desk of the President

A recent editorial in "LOCOMOTIVE & RAILWAY PRESERVATION," a magazine I highly recommend, talks about GUMPTION. Gumption is a fine old Scottish word which means initiative, resourcefulness, spunk. Mark Smith, editor, goes on to say, "people with gumption don't sit around stewing about things; they take action and solve problems. If you're going to restore a piece of railway equipment, create a museum, write an article, do a great event like Railfair... an adequate supply of gumption is the first and most indispensable tool."

I believe we here at the Portola Railroad Museum have gumption. We have been doing things and taking action so that in our short eight years we can look at our accomplishments with pride. Anyone with gumption is invited to join in the fun.
