

looks like we are doing something. The two WP GP9's are my first choice for paint.

Our Board of Directors make up has changed and the new people have new ideas. These ideas need to be directed to the betterment of the Society and the museum. Our visitors like what we have and enjoy the freedom to roam around our facility. While we are not a pristine museum like Sacramento or Carson City, we are different because we represent a railroad facility, but we still need to be visitor friendly.

Our Western Pacific Railroad Historical Society arm has presented a proposal to establish a library to store, catalog and make available our archives. We need to find a suitable location for this to be accomplished. Our endowment fund is growing and the income from this, when our goal is reached, will give us the funds to have at least one paid staff member. We have the opportunity to apply for two Federal grants and there are private foundation grants that might be available to our organization. We just have to try.

Volunteers are the back bone of our organization and we are very grateful for all the hours they put in. They could be at home doing "honey-do's" or fishing or something, instead they come to the museum at their own expense to help preserve the industrial technology of railroading for the public to enjoy. I can never thank these people enough, for without them we would have to close the gates.

Thanks to all who have sent Christmas cards, Barbara and I hope you all have a wonderful New Year.

PS: Those of you who visited the museum during the past eight years may have met our dog "Goldie". I am sorry to report she is no longer with us, having died from an enlarged heart. She is missed.

WE OWN LAND!

On October 27, 1997, a deed for 3.46 acres of land was recorded in the Plumas County Court House, Quincy. This parcel is part of our leased property that was sold to a real estate developer by Union Pacific so that the developer would have access to Portola city services. As this property included our picnic area we were concerned that we would loose this valuable attraction. During a walk through with the UP and the developer, Bruce Cooper casually asked when they got through with their development map if there was some property they did not need, could it be donated to our
